Introduction to FRBR Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records

GACOMO

Oct. 16, 2008

FRBR

- Recommendation of report by the International Federation of Library Associations & Institutions (IFLA) in 1998
- Conceptual model for organization of bibliographic & authority data
- Lays groundwork for new generation of library catalogs

IFLA Final Report

Objectives of Report

1. "To provide a clearly defined, structured framework for relating the data that are recorded in bibliographic records to the needs of the users of those records."
2. "To recommend a base level of functionality for records created by national bibliographic agencies."

IFLA

- Proposes national level bibliographic record for all types of materials
- Continues to monitor application of FRBR
- Promotes use & evolution of FRBR

FRBR IS . . .

- Independent of any cataloging code
- Influencing library system designs
- Facilitating international standardization
- User-focused
- Providing common terminology & framework to help studies/research progress

FRBR is Not . . .

- A New Cataloging Code
- Just Another Acronym
  - FRBR
  - FRBRized
  - FRBRization
  - FRAD (Functional Requirements for Authority Data)

FRBR Is Expected To . . .

Lead to a more functional catalog that is easier to maintain, distribute & search

What about RDA?

- RDA (Resource Description & Access) is new cataloging code in the works rather than AACR3
- Latest expected release date is early 2009
- Based on concept of FRBR

Entities of FRBR

- Identifies entities of most interest to users of bibliographic information
- Three groups of entities
  1. Content described in bibliographic record
  2. Those responsible for the content
  3. Subject of the content

Group 1 Entities

- Work – Distinct intellectual/artistic endeavor
- Expression – Realization of a work
- Manifestation – Physical embodiment of the expression of a work
- Item – Single physical piece

WORK

- Abstract entity
- Recognized through expressions
- Exists only as content common to the various expressions

Expression

- Abstract entity
- Intellectual/artistic realization of a work
  - Translations
  - Change in form (written to spoken)
- Each expression relates to the work and facilitates grouping
- Any change in intellectual/artistic content results in new expression

Manifestation

- Concrete entity
- Physical embodiment of an expression of a work (catalog at this level now)
- Physical objects bearing same intellectual content & physical form
  - Manuscripts
  - Books
  - Periodicals
  - Sound Recordings
  - Video Recordings

ITEM

- Concrete entity
- A single copy of a manifestation

FRBR Entities

- w1 Hannah Swen's Seasons of Summer
  - e1 performance by Ann Wynn recorded in 1995
    - m1 recording released on audio cassette in 1996 by XYZ Recordings
    - m2 recording re-released on compact disc in 2000 by ABC Recordings
      - i1 copy 1 held by Henderson Library
      - i2 copy 2 held by Henderson Library

Group 2 Entities

- Person
- Corporate Body

Related to Group 1 entities through specific relationships

Group 3 Entities

- Subjects of works
  - Concept
  - Event
  - Place
  - Any group 1 or group 2 entities

User Tasks Defined

- Find
- Identify
- Select
- Obtain
- Navigate

“These user tasks reinforce the traditional objectives of a catalog as described by Cutter in 1876 to enable a user to find and collocate works.”

Barbara Tillett

Benefits for User

- Complex works with multiple manifestations organized into a simpler format
- Searching catalog much more powerful

Impact on Cataloging

- Re-examination of cataloging rules
- Improving GMDs
- Improve linking devices through work level citation – composite or super record
  - All information about a work centralized in one record
  - For later records, just add information specific to each expression

Current bibliographic records reflect manifestation level rather than work level.

OCCLC Research

- 80% of WorldCat records reflect single manifestation
- Remaining 20% need more extensive work
- Create algorithms to convert MARC 21 database to FRBR model
- Prototypes

1.	Wind In the Willows / Grahame, Kenneth The escapades of four animal friends who live along a river in the English countryside--Toad, Mole, Rat, and Badger.	501	20098
2.	Gone With the Wind / Mitchell, Margaret A monumental classic considered by many to be not only the greatest love story ever written, but also the greatest Civil War saga.	293	11291
3.	Scarlett / Ripley, Alexandra The story of Scarlett's and Rhett's love affair, begun in Gone With the Wind, continues in this long-awaited sequel.	60	4974
4.	The Wailing Wind / Hillerman, Tony Nothing had seemed complicated about the old "Golden Calf" case. A con game had gone sour. Wealthy old Wiley Denton had shot the swindler, called the police, confessed, and done his short prison time. No mystery there, except why did the rich man's bride vanish? And now, papers found by Sergeant Jim Chee and Officer Bernie Manuelito in a new homicide case connect the victim to Denton and to the mythical Golden Calf Mine.	12	4431
5.	Doragon Kishidan / Ōkami, Mineko "The idyllic paradise of Draqueen faces threats from all around. The Yokai hordes gather on the periphery of the Dragon Lord's Kingdom ready to storm the castle, intent on resurrecting their fallen leader, Nadil. But inside the castle, tensions mount. Demon possessions begin to afflict the Dragon tribe; the Yokai Bierrez discovers how to penetrate Lord Lykouleon's protective shield; and the Dragon Queen discovers a deceptive magic at work within the bowels of the castle. Before the Dragon Army faces their enemies without, they might first have to expunge the darkness within"--Cover.	25	2130
6.	The Wind Done Gone / Randall, Alice In a brilliant rejoinder and an inspired act of literary invention, Alice Randall explodes the world created in Margaret Mitchell's famous 1936 novel, the work that more than any other has defined our image of the antebellum South. Imagine simply that the black characters peopling that world were completely different, not egregious, one-dimensional stereotypes but fully alive, complex human beings. And then imagine, quite plausibly, that at the center of this world moves an illegitimate mulatto woman, and that this woman, Cynara, Cinnamon, or Cindy, beautiful and brown, gets to tell her story. Cindy is born into a world in which she is unacknowledged by her plantation-owning father and passed over by her mother in favor of her white charges. Sold off like so much used furniture, she eventually makes her way back to Atlanta to take up with a prominent white businessman, only to leave him for an aspiring politician of her own color. Moving from the Deep South to the exhilarating freedom of	4	2063
